

JEFFREY E. KOVIAK

Director of U.S. Sales
Tenneco, Inc. (TEN)

Jeffrey E. Koviak is the director of U.S. sales for Tenneco, Inc. (TEN). In that role, he is responsible for the sales and marketing activities pertaining to Monroe Ride Control, Walker Exhaust, Rancho and Dynamax performance as well as Monroe Brake products to the national account retail, traditional automotive and heavy duty truck distribution channels in the United States and the Caribbean.

Prior to his current assignment, Koviak held various positions of escalating responsibility in the Tenneco Sales team in both the traditional and retail segments. Additionally, he owned and managed multiple installation facilities, in the middle 1990's, in eastern Michigan.

Koviak is a graduate of Northwood University, where he earned an associate of arts degree in automotive aftermarket management in 1991 and a bachelor of business administration degree in 1992.

He has one several awards, including: Tenneco Automotive Pride Award winner (2002), Tenneco Automotive President Circle Award winner (2000) and Advance Auto Parts Factory Representative of the Year (1999).

Koviak has two daughters, Carsen and Camryn, and enjoys playing ice hockey, golf and hunting.